

Established in 2009, All Inclusive Advice & Training (AIAT) is a multi-award winning not-for-profit organisation. We are a social enterprise that provides advice, services and training regarding accounting, financial issues and business advice to empower individuals, communities and small businesses in Croydon and surrounding Greater London areas.

We provide accredited courses in accounting and finance and non-accredited training through quality workshops, services and mentoring programmes to educate the Croydon community regarding financial management, improve their quality of life and give them a positive attitude towards their finances. Our goal is to foster a commitment to help the disadvantaged individuals, not in education, employment or training (NEETs), the unemployed, low-paid, self-employed and SME businesses in Croydon and the surrounding areas.

A core part of our delivery is to support those facing financial difficulties, providing advice and guidance that cover Budgeting, Money Management skills, and Debt advice by creating individual bespoke budget plans and exploring means to generate extra income.

Alongside the Debt advice and bespoke employability workshops, we deliver interactive online well-being workshops through our 'Budget Now, Gain Later' programme targeting young people and their families. The young people will develop fundamental money management skills embedded in Bespoke Employability training workshops. Their parents will develop skills to increase their financial resilience to absorb their rising cost of living better.

The programme aims to address the growing number of disadvantaged families affected by the rapid rise of the cost of living crisis fundamentally caused by higher inflation impact within their homes.

We offer a wrap-around service and signpost to partners, providing additional support for beneficiaries with complex barriers preventing them from progressing into learning and work.

In addition, we are outstanding employability, training and workforce solutions provider, established to engage Croydon's residents (aged 19+), delivering programmes that support individuals, helping them engage in their learning, build confidence and enhance their well-being.

All Inclusive has guided many people into jobs via our bespoke Employability courses that help people with CV and interview skills. Delivered in partnership with HSBC Bank, Barclays Bank, Morgan Stanley and our pool of locally-based employers and SMEs, we support individuals into work experience at local companies through our work placement programme, pathways to Traineeships, and part-time or full-time jobs.
